

Helping Hand

The Helping Hand

treatment of arthritis

A secret that causes a child to feel sad, worried or scared should always be shared with someone the child trusts. Help your child identify people he or she can trust by using a helping hand model: trace your child's hand and name a trusted adult for each finger and the thumb. Talk with your child about sharing his or her thoughts and feelings.